Thank you to the author/s for putting their effort into revising this manuscript. I appreciate it! The author/s showed their comprehension of this topic, especially in the analytical aspects.

I still have some comments you might want to address (1) to clarify if your writing is a theory-building research, there should be an explanation in the "Rationale of the study or objective" that you were exploring or willing to propose a new theory in this topic (2) the title, it seems a little too rhetoric; please consult it to the Editor (3) there are some incomprehensible terms or abbreviations (4) see my comments in the article body.

Recommendation: Resubmit for Review
